Flu vaccine coverage

The bad news is that influenza is now circulating in all 50 states. The good news is that according to the Centers for Disease Control, the vaccine covers all currently circulating strains.

The best news: the ground hog predicts an early spring.

For the latest in updated flu information www.cdc.gov

Julie Kardos, MD and Naline Lai, MD
©2011 Two Peds in a Pod®